VETERAN ARMEN DARE WILDERNESS ON MERCY FLIGHT

George Townsend, Missing Klondiker, Has Relatives In This City

LAST FIVE DAYS Rescuers Believe Pilot May Be Stalled in Deep Snow of North Country

Fairbanks, Alaska, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Three veteran aviators dared the Alaskan winter and wilderness today in their determination to find Pilot Jack Hermann and his five companions who vanished Saturday on a flight between Danah, Y.T., and Fairbanks. Forced back today by lowering clouds and drifting fog into the upper Chena River, Bill Johns, Victor Ross and Herman Zerner, all announced they would take off at once on their rescue mission.

May Be Stalled The five men who rescued Hermann may have landed safely in an open spot and stalled in snow in the rugged country between here and Dawson. Their planes carried food and they should find the missing pilot and his passengers, Peter O'Leary, Chester Adams, Okay Gergen, W. James and George Townsend, all Klondikers.

Planes Have Skid Pilot Ed Lawrence flew to Clifton Creek from Fairbanks with two passengers, all keeping a close watch for the Hermann plane. Pilot Herb Jensen covered the same route on a round trip from Fairbanks. Some of them saw a streak of white in the snow. The planes are all equipped with skis, but heavy rains have melted the snow in exposed places and are making the pilots, admitted, would involve considerable danger.

Was Previously Lost One recently made non-stop flight between Fairbanks and Seattle. Hermann, 28-year-old superintendent of the Northern Air Transport Company, was once before on an Alaskan flight. He and Larry Baker of King City, Calif., were missing for three days a year ago this month. Most trouble forced down their plane.

George Townsend mentioned as being one of the passengers of the plane in the absence of Hermann, is a brother of Mrs. C. Randle, Mrs. Sutton and Mr. A. Townsend, all of the Five Acres.

CONCILIATORS FAVOR WORKERS Majority Award Recommends Wage Scale Remain At Bridge River

Ottawa, Nov. 6.—Recommendation for continuation of payment of the wage scale tentatively agreed to last May was made today in a majority report of the conciliation board named to adjudicate upon the dispute between mining companies operating in the Bridge River, B.C. district, and their underground and surface employees.

The majority award, announced by Hon. Norman McLeod, Rogers, Minister of Labor, is signed by Judge J. C. McIntosh, Vancouver, chairman of the board, and W. A. Pritchard, representative of the workers. Companies affected are the Pioneer Gold Mines of B. C. Ltd., Braden Mines Limited, Brakore, Mines, Limited, Wastide Consolidated Gold Mines, Limited, and Congress Gold Mines, Limited. Their representative on the board, T. Binney, Vancouver, filed a minority report on wages in which he stated there was no justification for the general increase arranged tentatively last May.

Arnold Webster Defeats McGeer

Vancouver, Nov. 6.—Arnold Webster, C.C.F., was declared elected today in Vancouver-Liberal by a majority of four votes over Mayor G. G. McGeer. Liberal. James McGeer, brother of the defeated candidate, announced he will apply for a judicial recount.

Of the four absentee ballots counted today by Returning Officer R. G. Phlips, two were rejected, and the other two proved to be for Webster.

Final figures: Webster, 10,228; McGeer, 10,224; A. J. McDonnell, Conservative, 5,267; Dr. L. W. Turnbull, Reconstruction, 1902; W. A. Tuttle, Social Credit, 532. Rejected ballots totaled 280.

Republicans Forecast Turn In Tide For 1936 Following Recent Win

Democrats Sharply Dispute Claim As They Retain Two Seats in Congress; Two Killed and Two Wounded in Shooting Affray in Kentucky; Farley's Statement

Washington, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Taking the sweetness of victory scored in the Assembly elections in the Empire State, United States Republican leaders said today they saw a turn in the tide for 1936, but Democratic chiefs sharply disputed this.

The party that failed to reelect Herbert Hoover as president in 1932 fought its numerous scattered victories in state and municipal elections yesterday by regaining control of the Assembly in President Roosevelt's home state of New York.

It also elected mayors in Philadelphia and Cleveland, increased its majority in the New Jersey Assembly and retained control of the state senate there.

Democrats Retain Seats In Ohio and Kentucky. Democrats retained two seats in Congress from New York City, but won a record majority in the Assembly. Winning in their stronghold of Hudson County, N.J., noon after noon, the Rev. J. Denigraire, Governor Herbert H. Lehman's $55,000,000 state relief fund issue in New York, and looked toward Kentucky today to count the electoral gubernatorial nominee the winner.

Helena, Montana Severely Shaken By 87th Shock

Helena, Mont., Nov. 6.—Still intermittently jolted by convulsive earth movements, Helena was given a second jolting at 8:23 a.m. today by one of the 87th aftershocks since Oct. 31, when two persons were killed and many injured.

The severe jarring opened wider cracks in the buildings still standing, rattled and knocked down loosened objects, and momentarily frightened the city that has been used to less severe joltings.

It was the twenty-fifth consecutive day of tremors in the Montana capital city, including the two disastrous shakings of Oct. 18 and 31, movements totaled 177.

SLAYER OF WIFE ESCAPES NOOSE Manslaughter Verdict Returned In Bova Case At Vancouver

Vancouver, Nov. 6.—James Bova, 30-year-old Italian, who shot his pretty young wife to death on a Tuesday noon on a dark night last February, escaped the death penalty on a manslaughter verdict which was returned today when a 12-man jury found him guilty of manslaughter.

In addition, the jury, which deliberated its verdict for less than 20 minutes, brought in a strong recommendation for mercy.

The verdict was a personal victory for J. H. Nicholson, young defence counsel who recently attained fame as assistant to the Attorney General in prosecution of the Canford murder cases.

PEACE OFFERS FOLLOW ITALY'S WITHDRAWAL OF LIBYAN FORCES

Britain Will Agree To Cut Naval Strength in Mediterranean

TRADE BOYCOTT Report From Addis Ababa Denies Attempt On Life of Emperor

Moscow and Great Britain, Paris diplomatic circles said today, are smoothing out their differences in the Mediterranean as a preliminary to settlement of the Italo-Ethiopian war.

The basis of agreement was reported to be as follows: Mussolini will reduce his forces in Libya, bordering Egypt, to normal strength. In return, the British fleet in the Mediterranean sea will be reduced.

Another condition, it was understood in Paris, is that anti-British propaganda in Italy must be stopped.

At Geneva, the League sanctions sub-committee decided members participating in the boycott of Italy must themselves see to it that prohibited key personnel do not reach Italy by transit through non-boycott nations.

At Rome a communique said the submission of trial indictments in the northern Ethiopia continues and the southern army was reported to be on the advance again.

At Addis Ababa, it was reported, an Italian scouting detachment expelled to enter Makale was attacked by the Ethiopians. Ten Italians and two Ethiopians were killed in the clash over the strategic objective city on the northern front.

The communique said the Italian scouts tried to enter Makale last night in advance of the main body of the Fascist forces, driving on that caravan route.

DENIES MURDER ATTEMPT Addis Ababa, Nov. 6.—The government today hotly denied an attempt had been made to assassinate Emperor Haile Selassie, as reported in the Rome newspaper Tribune yesterday, by its Amara correspondent.

The Tribune dispatch said that a bomb had been found in the Imperial palace, and an American negro merchant arrested as the would-be assassin.

WAR CHEST OPENED Paris, Nov. 6.—The Addis Ababa correspondent of the Intransigent newspaper containing the war chest set aside by the late Emperor Menelik was opened this morning. The treasure is believed to total more than $100,000,000.

MARABOU WINS CUP Melbourne, Nov. 6.—Marabou, owned by J. Fell and T. Hogan, won the 1000-yard race yesterday. J. J. Leahy's Sarcophagus was second, and Miss Lorna Doherty's Silvanella, third. Twenty-two ran.

Statute of Tangier Officials confirmed the report that an exchange of views was under way between the British, French, Italy, France and Spain on the question of revising the Statute of Tangier (the agreement for permanent internationalization of Tangier).

Authoritative sources said, however, that the exchange of views was only slightly in the Mediterranean situation with the status quo likely to be maintained.

Problem of Propaganda Another Mediterranean question is that of Italian propaganda in Egypt where 60,000 Italians have settled. French authorities said they believed Premier Mussolini was anxious to regulate all difficulties with Great Britain and France in order to clear the air for a discussion of a settlement of the Italo-Ethiopian war before his nation feels the pressure of economic sanctions.

GLOUCESTER AND LADY SCOTT WED IN CHAPEL OF PALACE

Brilliant Ceremony by Archbishop of Canterbury Unites Old Scottish Family With House of Windsor; Throgs Cheer Couple Following Nuptials

London, Nov. 6.—(AP)—The Duke of Gloucester, tall soldier son of the King and Queen and Lady Alice Montagu-Douglas-Scott were married today in a quiet ceremony in the crimson and gold chapel of Buckingham Palace.

By JAMES C. GOLDFIELD Behind the Duke of Gloucester, tall soldier son of the King and Queen and Lady Alice Montagu-Douglas-Scott were married today in a quiet ceremony in the crimson and gold chapel of Buckingham Palace.

With the plighting of this troth, the Prince of Wales became the royal family's only bachelor. This second royal wedding within a year—a ceremony stripped of pompousness because of the recent death of the bride's father, the Duke of Bredford—was a sombre contrast to the brilliant marriage last November of the Duke of Kent and Princess Marina.

Sunlight flooded the chapel during the ceremony, bringing in brilliant relief the colorful uniforms and rich dresses of the 128 persons assembled.

Behind the Duke of Gloucester stood his two supporters, the Prince of Wales in the uniform of colonel of the Welsh Guards, and the Duke of York in the uniform of Colonel of the Scots Guards.

King George wore a field marshal's uniform and Queen Mary a jeweled blue chiffon velvet gown.

Eight bridesmaids, Misses Cecily, Edith, and Eileen, daughters of the Duke of Gloucester, were dressed in the uniform of the Queen's Own Yeomanry. The bridesmaids were dressed in the uniform of the Queen's Own Yeomanry.

KINGFORD-SMITH REACHES TAIPEI Australian Ace in Second Record Attempt To Break Own Record

Taipei, Greece, Nov. 6.—Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith, making a second attempt within a month to fly from England to Australia, arrived here at 5:30 p.m. today.

Lynch, Cent. Eng. Nov. 6.—Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith, transoceanic flier, took off here early today on his second attempt within a month to fly from England to Australia.

He lifted his monoplane into the air at 6:28 a.m. after hurriedly completing preparations for the trip.

The Perthshire, an Australian, accompanied Kingsford-Smith. The aviator is trying to beat his own solo record from England to Australia and also to better the time of the Melbourne Air Race winners.

BOARD APPOINTED IN MINE DISPUTE Cumberland Deadlock Will Be Arbitrated by Vancouver Nominees

Ottawa, Nov. 6.—Appointment of a Board of Conciliation to deal with a dispute between Canadian Collieries (Dunsmuir) Limited, Cumberland, B. C., and certain of its workers today was announced by Hon. Norman McL. Rogers, Minister of Labor.

J. A. Russell, Vancouver, will be chairman of the enquiry, with George Kidd, Vancouver, representing the company, and C. M. Stewart, Vancouver, sitting as representative of the men.

The issues to be considered are the alleged introduction by the company for a new contract system and request of employees for establishment of a rotation system.

Fifteen-Year-Old Youth Gives Life To Save Brother Vancouver, Nov. 6.—Fifteen-year-old Russell Bourton gave his life today in a futile effort to save his brother, Keith, 17, who crashed into the time sea of Treen Lake while the boys were skating before going to school. Both were drowned.

Rotten ice less than 100 yards from the lake's edge crumbled and Keith slipped into the water. Fred Russell, who saw the younger brother trying vainly to pull out the struggling youth and called to him to hold on while he ran for assistance. When he returned with help, there was no sign of life. Both bodies were recovered later.

The brothers were sons of Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Burnett. They had a sister, Phyllis, aged 11.

To Exhibit Onions At Local Hotel Onions grown by local amateur gardeners, will be on exhibition next Saturday evening at eight o'clock in the Lotus Hotel. The judging of exhibits will be by the following: Ladyship, and the following rules will apply: Onions must be grown and owned by exhibitors; two or more entries may be made, and the decision of the judges to be final.

Four special prizes are being offered for the best onions. All entries will be donated to the Christmas Cheer Fund.

ROYAL WEDDINGS

Today, Henry William Frederick Albert Windsor, K.G., G.C.V.O., Duke of Gloucester, and Major of the 10th Hussars, will be married in the Chapel of Buckingham Palace to Lady Alice Montagu-Douglas-Scott, daughter of the late Duke of Buccleuch.

Prince Henry, like his brother, the Duke of York, has crossed the Tweed in search of a bride and the ceremony will unite further the bonds of affection between England and Scotland.

It is possible that there are those of England who believe that the Duke of Gloucester has honored the House of Scott by offering his hand to Lady Alice. But there are many Scots who will tell you that Lady Alice refused the Duke when he first proposed, leaving that in mind her identity in his, she would help in undermining the independence of her House, which can be traced to the great Montrose.

Unfortunately, due to the unexpected demise of the bride's father, the ceremony will be shorn of that pageantry and trapping which has become associated with a Royal wedding, especially when the bride was to have been a fitting climax to the Silver Jubilee celebration of Their Majesties. It is unfortunate, especially in that it would have materially assisted business throughout the Old Country. Further, unless the Prince of Wales changes his mind, it will be the last Royal wedding that Britain will see for many years to come.

The Duke of Gloucester has chosen the army as his career. He celebrated his thirty-fifth birthday last March, and is well-known as a keen sportsman, and an active soldier. His recent trip to Australia did not increase his popularity, but in our sister Dominion, probably his travels may be extended further in the future, and Canada will see him with the Duke of Gloucester.

Lady Alice Scott is very popular with the tenantry at Buccleuch. It is said that she is a fine sportswoman, a gracious hostess, and that she is also fitted for the position she will assume in the life of the nation.

Great Britain, her Dominions and her colonies will eagerly await news of the wedding, which although not as brilliant as it might have been, is none the less interesting to the Empire.

AN OLYMPIC SOCCER TEAM

Nations are already grooming representative soccer teams for the Olympic Games. Eleven from the United States, China, Japan, Peru, Norway, Poland, Holland, Belgium, Switzerland, France, Italy and England will compete.

The exceptionally fine showing made by Canadian teams against some of the best professionals the Motherland could produce definitely shows that Canada should be entered.

Either the team winning the Dominion Football championship, or an All-Star Canadian team would definitely prove that the Maple Leaf was a serious contender for honors in the amateur soccer field. The opportunity should not be allowed to pass, without representation from the Dominion.

Until the final spark of life remained,
Until the Reaper claimed its own. He gave
His best. His duty called, it's call obeyed;
But at what cost death registered its claim.
Enduring time, within thy vast domain.
Let men's lives live beyond the yawning grave.
Let fleeting years his memory engrave
On future's scroll of honor to his name.
In his duty, as in ease, he found friends;
Acquaintance cultivated no regrets
Time for our loss can make no amends;
His name remains the symbol of respect.
He passed; we pause in tribute to a friend.
The end—our Doctor, we deplore the end.

Nanaimo's Laboratory

The observance of health work has brought a request for the start of the laboratory and its contribution to the community. The greatest era in the history of medicine, born of the researches of Pasteur, was introduced by the founding of the laboratory of bacteriology, and it is the Laboratory became an indispensable aid to the medical profession in the conquest of disease. Seventy years ago the specific causes of infectious diseases were unknown, but the realization that parasites might be capable of producing many of man's infirmities led to the discovery of the particular bacterium causing anthrax, diphtheria, typhoid, and later, scarlet fever, and many other less commonly known infections.

Anti-Toxins
Further researches produced sera and antivenoms, enabling man to clothe himself with the mantle of immunity against afflictions that had hitherto reaped a rich harvest from his ranks. The successful vaccination against smallpox, made by Jenner in 1796, was the forerunner of the momentous discoveries in bacteriology in the latter half of the nineteenth century. Today there are no hospital wards overflowing with patients waiting the agencies of diphtheria, and this disease can be entirely prevented by simple immunization. The incidence of typhoid fever is reduced to a casual number compared with the epidemics of 100 cases before isolation of the typhoid bacillus and the advent of modern methods of sanitation. Although no absolute cure has yet been found for tuberculosis, the knowledge acquired of the habits of the tubercle bacillus has given new hope to the tuberculous and innumerable recoveries are now made by patients with far advanced disease. If parents care to take the trouble their children can be immunized against scarlet fever, and when we recall that during the past year entire families have been quarantined for periods of six weeks, it would appear to be short sighted policy in not visiting the family physician.

Local Preventive Work
The work of the laboratory is preventive and diagnostic. Over 1000 analyses have been made during the past 12 months; in addition, it is the centre for distribution in this district of all toxins, antitoxins and sera of the Provincial Board of Health. Biological supplies are provided free of charge to the patient, through his physician, and are available for the control of, and immunization against, communicable disease. These are kept under constant conditions and are immediately procurable when required.

Through the co-operation of the City Council the purity of the local milk supply is subject to constant check, and a stated number of analyses are made each month from dairies retailing in the city. As all milk sold here is raw milk the high grade maintained complies with the rigid standard set by public health authorities and is comparable to the best obtainable. By authority of the council weekly tests are also made of the local water supply.

Laboratory of Health
As an aid to diagnosis the Laboratory holds an important place. It is in the interest of the public health that communicable disease should be recognized as early as possible and remedial treatment initiated. As a consequence all tests for the diagnosis of infectious or contagious disease, tuberculosis, diphtheria, typhoid and venereal infections, are made by the laboratory free of charge. Of the 5,000 tests already made, approximately 2,500 have been of a public health nature.

Laboratory procedures cover a very wide range. A common fallacy frequently met is the belief that a blood test will reveal any diseased condition the patient may be suffering from. Unfortunately blood tests have limitations and the, particularly in the case of the venereal disease, is frequently determined by the doctor. These blood analyses are usually made to discover the Today I hear this column is "Trouble" — and how to avoid them. Behind every fault there is a cause and a cure. Find both—and your baking will be easier and surer.

When cake is underdone, the cause may be:
1. Not enough baking powder or too much mixture.
2. Mixture raised in too large a pan.
3. Oven too hot.
When cake falls, the cause may be:
1. Too much shortening.
2. Too much baking powder or soda overleavens mixture.
3. Too much sugar.
4. Insufficient baking.
When cake rises higher on one side, the cause may be:
1. Uneven heat in oven.
2. Oven grate not level.
3. Batter stirred unevenly in pan.
When cake burns on sides, the cause may be:
1. Uneven heat in oven.
2. Oven too hot.
3. Baked too near sides of oven.

When cake is heavy, the cause may be:
1. Too much flour because of careless measuring.
2. Too much shortening.
3. Too much sugar.

MY PEACH UPSIDE-DOWN CAKE
(1 cup)
1 1/4 cups sifted Swans Down Cake Flour.
1 1/4 teaspoons baking powder.
1/4 teaspoon salt.
1 cup granulated sugar.
4 tablespoons softened butter or other shortening.
1 egg well beaten.
1/2 cup milk.
4 tablespoons vanilla.
4 1/2 cups peaches, firmly packed.
3 cups sliced peaches (fresh or canned).
Sift flour, eggs, measure, add baking powder, salt and sugar, and mix together. Add butter. Combine egg, milk and vanilla. Add to flour mixture, stirring until all flour is dampened; then beat vigorously one minute.
Melt 4 tablespoons butter in a 2 1/2-inch pan or 8-inch skillet, over low flame. Add brown sugar (1/2 teaspoon nutmeg may be added with brown sugar, if desired); stir until melted. On this arrange peach slices. Turn batter over contents of pan. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 30 minutes, or until done. Loosen cake from sides of pan with spatula. Serve upside down with peaches on top. Garnish with whipped cream, pineapple, strawberries, apricots, or sliced apples may be used for peaches.

WHAT THE FILM PUBLIC WANTS

(Christian Science Monitor)
Dare film companies raise the standard of their productions, or accept already producing films of as high quality as the public will accept? Some kind of rough answer to this question can be deduced from an analysis of the first 10,000 replies to the National Film Ballot organized in Great Britain and long ago by London Film Production, Ltd., a company responsible for several successful British pictures, such as "The Private Life of Henry VIII" and "Cathedral Square."

To many of the questions which the ballot propounded, indeterminate answers were given. The replies to the questions, should Shakespeare be filmed, for example, roughly balanced out. But when asked whether a film could be intersting if it contained no "love interest," 8893 returned an affirmative response, only 1257 replied no. Equally sympathetic was the answer to the question whether the public is interested in his filming of such books as Mr. H. G. Wells' sociological essay, "The Shape of Things to Come." The negative replies in this instance numbered 1932, the positive 8849.

The results recorded by this ballot are instructive. Wherever a definite preponderance of opinion on any question is revealed in the replies of the typical section of the film public affected by the London opinion is definitely on the thoughtful side. It would seem that if producers raised the artistic level of their films, the public would not let them down.

I TOLD THEM "SWANS DOWN IS REALLY ECONOMICAL"

I WISH SHE WOULD TELL US WHY SWANS DOWN IS ECONAMICAL IN CAKE BAKING

WHY DON'T YOU ASK HER? WE ALL WOULD LIKE TO KNOW

SWANS DOWN IS ECONAMICAL IN CAKE BAKING

1. Not enough baking powder or too much mixture.
2. Mixture raised in too large a pan.
3. Oven too hot.
4. Insufficient baking.

I WOULD CERTAINLY LIKE TO USE SWANS DOWN, BUT I'M WONDERING IF I CAN AFFORD IT

MADAME, YOU CAN POSITIVELY MAKE FINE CAKE WITH SWANS DOWN CAKE FLOUR AND YET USE FEWER INGREDIENTS THAN YOU WOULD WITH ORDINARY FLOUR

IT'S AMAZING, I KNOW— BUT TRUE WITH LESS BUTTER, LESS SUGAR, AND FEWER EGGS YOU CAN HAVE REAL COMPANY CAKE EVERY TIME YOU USE SWANS DOWN AND YOU NEED NEVER HAVE THE EXPENSE OF A CAKE FAILURE.

ALWAYS FOLLOW DIRECTIONS. SIFT SWANS DOWN BEFORE MEASURING. YOU LL GAIN A CLIP IN EVERY CUPFUL OF SIFTED SWANS DOWN BECAUSE SWANS DOWN IS SO FINE

YOU SEE, SWANS DOWN COMES FROM A SPECIAL GRADE OF WHEAT WITH A GLUTEN SO TENDER THAT THE RESPONSE IS PERFECT TO "QUICK" CAKE MIXTURES. FOR DELICATE CAKE MIXTURES THE TENDER ELASTIC GLUTEN IN ORDINARY FLOURS JUST WON'T DO. BUT SWANS DOWN IS MOLDED DIFFERENTLY, IT TAKES 100 POUNDS OF THIS SPECIAL WHEAT TO MAKE JUST 26 POUNDS OF SWANS DOWN WHICH IS SIFTED THROUGH FINEST SILK UNTIL 27 TIMES AS FINE AS GOOD BREAD FLOUR.

is still a tendency to choose for office men who are capable, not their greatness of intellect or thoroughness of preparation, but for their resemblance to the average man. All too often this has given ground by mediocre men, simply because it pleased the electorate to feel that their rulers were no better than they.

British Columbia sells her products, lumber, fish, fruit, etc., largely upon a world market and if her production costs keep rising and Dominion tariffs against outside commodities remain high she cannot hope to hold her place in supplying world requirements.

Gold For Cinderella

By JOAN McGRATH

SYNOPSIS
Anne Louise Proctor, an orphan, lives with Aunt Abigail and her house. Because she is treated as a servant, and otherwise abused, she runs away to New York. After several adventures in New York, she finds a letter which tells her that she is a noble French girl. She returns to her home in the country and is greeted most affectionately by her aunt and cousins. She shows her wit and knowledge but shows antagonism where she knows Bob McVernon.

CHAPTER XIV

Aunt Abigail looked as if she had been struck and her face turned all the color of the rainbow. Only too well she remembered the evening to which Anne Louise referred, and she shuddered at all her heart she had not related it to Anne Louise's name, she tried to conceal her feelings and managed a smile.

"Use the phone, of course," she said. "I've told you before you don't have to ask permission."

"Hello."

"It was her! She was thrilled. And she was homesick. If he were with her and she would not be here, she would be in heaven. Why had he not met her? Why had he not called her? But there was some explanation, of course, as when she spoke she made no attempt to keep the gladness out of her voice.

"Swiftly the tone in his voice changed to a note of sadness. "Darling, I've been waiting some time from your signal."

"Signal?"

He laughed. "Don't you remember the time in the attic. I didn't know whether you'd want me to come up to the house or to phone you there. I'd been in the station only a few minutes in court on a matter for Mr. Vernon's case, enough of all that you and where, and how can I see you."

"Now, here, and through the front door," she said back at him. "I'm not up my aunt's (this for the benefit of the reader) 'till he is glad to know you. Or if you prefer to come to the car we could take a ride."

"It's going in the car," he exclaimed eagerly and hung up.

"It's coming," said Aunt Abigail, ready to call. "Anne Louise looked into the living room on her way upstairs to get a wrap.

"It's coming to take me for a ride."

Aunt Abigail suppressed a frown. "That's not nice. When you're finished your ride bring him in and we'll have some refreshments."

"Thank you very much, Aunt," said Anne Louise, but she had no intention of accepting the invitation.

From the bedroom window she saw Bob drive up in Mr. Stanton's car, and she rushed down to meet him thus installing Aunt Abigail, who would have enjoyed watching, at close range, this young man who threatened to disrupt her plans.

"Darling," cried Anne Louise as she turned into her arms. Aunt Abigail returned the expression and then she said in a certain, glummed the meeting. Her glance was one of distrust and her heart was full of doubt.

"Little Annielou!" said Bob and Anne Louise and released her, and she said life about. "All dressed up like an elegant praeckel!" He

BRADDOCK NOT SO GOOD, FANS THINK

Workout in Seattle Ring None Too Impressive; Seems Overweight.

Seattle, Nov. 6.—Jacques J. Braddock, heavyweight champion, showed little, ducked and gently bowed through an exhibition bout of three rounds, looking far from his best in his sparring partner, Jack McLarnon, Boston heavyweight.

Braddock, slightly fat around the middle, agreed the beam at 210 and McLarnon, rugged around 240.

The trainer's fan favorites in the first round, but didn't avoid allowing the lead to excite the fans. He made up his mind to go, elated, allowing McLarnon to do the leading.

The champion didn't fear 210 and connected with fewer. Those punches did not land but little zip to them.

He stirred the crowd with an exhibition of dodging and ducking. That McLarnon's warts on arms and shoulders. One, in the second round, there was a flurry of glances and it appeared as though he of them may have been hit.

Braddock stood flustered in the third round and allowed McLarnon to get in an exposed jab. McLarnon, however, several punches. None at which he bothered the champion.

Whist and Social Most Successful

The whist drive and social held in the Elite Hall last night in aid of the families of the striking Chinese longshoremen was most successful. Forty tables of whist were in play. Jimmy Reed's "dingo" game also proved to be very popular. Whist drive winners were: 1st, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Rae; 2nd Mr. and Mrs. M. Stafford; 3rd Mr. Barret and partner. Mr. G. LeBren held the lucky ticket in the drawing. Great credit is due the committee in charge, particularly Mrs. Thomson and her co-workers of the C. C. F. who worked very hard to make the affair the great success it was.

Republicans elected 82 of the New York State Assembly's 150 members and changed a previous Democratic margin of four into a Republican majority of 14.

Melvin C. Eaton, Republican state chairman, hailed the Empire State vote as "clearly showing a trend away from the new deal." Postmaster General James Farley, Democratic National and state chairman, countered by saying the state had sustained the national administration by giving it about a 500,000 majority. He charged gerrymandering of districts had made it impossible for Democrats to gain a majority of assembly seats except in case of a national landslide.

BOXERS AT TOP ABOUT AGE 21

Experts Figure Polo Players Are Good At Half-Century Mark

London, Eng.—British scientists have come out of a huddle here with a list of figures dictating—or so they claim—the ages at which athletes excel in various fields of sport.

Boxers and sprinters, according to these savants of the British Association, are the "babies" of sports, attaining their maximum degree of efficiency in their early 20s and dashed to the shortest-lived careers.

Speed heavy Methuselahs as Zylbiel and "stranger" Lewis don't point out with the profusion. Polo players last longest in the realm of group competition, while hammer throwers and golfers reach their peak latest in individual sport.

Here's the list, with ages: Individual sports: Sprinting and broad jump, 21; javelin throw, medium run, hurdles and high jump, 24; pole vault, shotput and long jump, 25; discus throw, 26; weight lifting, 30; hammer throw, 31. Group sports: Boxing, 21; wrestling, 22; football, 23; jiu-jitsu and field hockey, 26; tennis, 28; golf, 35; polo, up to 50.

Cow On Highway Blamed For Loss of Five Lives

Elorado, Kas., Nov. 6.—A cow on the highway was blamed last night for an automobile-gasoline tank truck collision which cost five lives. An automobile, containing Dorothy and Evelyn Coolesters, 18, twin sisters of Eureka, and Beach Pores, 23, and Claude Forshaw, 21, of Elorado, struck the cow, and then swung into the truck, which was carrying five passengers.

The impact ignited the gasoline, and it flamed up. W. E. McGair, riding in the truck, was thrown clear. Before he was able to assist the truck driver, George Gibson, 30, and the two couples in the automobile, were burned to death.

Charles S. Wells' Funeral Services Held On Tuesday

Charles Seward Wells, who obtained a wide measure of fame through his discovery in 1882 of the Wells Comet, was laid to rest yesterday afternoon. Funeral services were held from the D. J. Jenkins Chapel at three o'clock, with the Rev. W. P. Bunt officiating.

During the chapel services, the hymn "White With Me" was sung. Mrs. G. F. Nash was organist. Pallbearers were P. Seagle, D. O. Barrie, F. Hart, W. A. Philpott, W. P. Leask and J. A. Murray.

Interment was made in Nanaimo cemetery.

Navy Conference Receives Three Day Postponement

London, Nov. 6.—Postponement of a conference of naval powers from Dec. 2 to Dec. 5, was officially announced today.

It was stated the change in date was arranged to give Japanese delegates sufficient time to reach London. At the same time, it was announced France and India had accepted invitations to the conference.

The United States had not yet replied to the invitation. Italy had not yet accepted but had sent experts for preliminary discussions, beginning this afternoon.

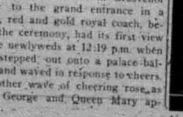

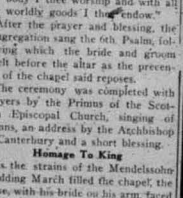

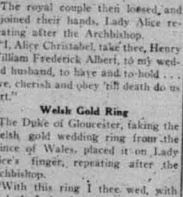

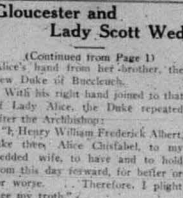

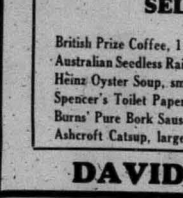

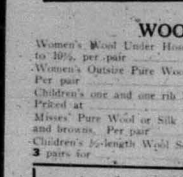

Wish Gold Ring

The Duke of Gloucester, taking the Welsh gold wedding ring from the Prince of Wales, placed it on Lady Alice's finger, repeating after the Archbishop.

"With this ring I thee wed, with my body I thee worship and with all my worldly goods I thee endow." After the prayer and blessing, the congregation sang the 6th Psalm, following which the bride and groom knelt before the altar as the priest recited of the choral said repotes.

The ceremony was completed with prayers by the Primate of the Scottish Episcopal Church, singing of hymns, an address by the Archbishop of Canterbury and a short blessing.

Homage To King As the strains of the Mendelssohn Wedding March filled the chapel, the Duke, with his bride on his arm, faced the King and Queen and bowed, while the bride and bridesmaids curtsied in unison.
