

S: Alright, so my name's Simon Spencer. I've lived in Canada since 2003. I work in the wine industry. And the whole time that I've lived in Canada is on Vancouver Island, mostly Duncan and in the last 3 and a 1/2 years in Victoria. I married a Canadian. I have a 12 year old son that was born in Duncan. And I very much like living here. It's a very cool place. Been very, very welcoming. Yeah, and the one thing that I always say that Canada needs to maybe improve upon is just relaxing some of the liquor laws allowing wineries to, a bit more freedom. And that's what I have to say.
