QUEBEC CONVENT PREY TO FLAMES; SISTER MISSING

Blaze Starts After Midnight In Furnace Room of Brick Building $50,000 DAMAGE Firemen Searching Ruins Find Remains of Sister St. Charles

St. Gregoire, Que., April 13.—The body of Sister St. Charles was recovered from the debris of St. Gregoire convent of the Sisters of St. Joseph and St. Valier, destroyed by fire, early today.

St. Gregoire, Que., April 13.—Firemen today searched the smoking ruins of the convent of the Sisters of St. Joseph de St. Valier for the body of Sister St. Charles, believed to have perished in a fire that swept through the convent shortly after midnight.

The fire was brought under control after more than six hours of hard fighting by volunteer firemen and a detachment from the Quebec fire department. It destroyed the convent, the main residence and the convent buildings. Damages were estimated approximately at $50,000.

Sister St. Charles, a cook at the convent, was reported missing when a check-up was made during the height of the fire which started in the furnace room of the three-story brick convent. When the fire was brought under control searchers started to explore the ruins for her body. The convent, built in 1904, was for day pupils and was one of the most modern at the time of the outbreak.

Report of Treasure Discovery Denied 'Down Under'

Sydney, Australia, April 13.—Tales of the discovery of buried Peruvian treasures valued at $50,000,000 sprang up today coincident with the return of an Anglo-French schooner expedition to the Tuamotu Archipelago in the South Pacific. The leader of the expedition, which included a mining engineer, a chemist, a submarine engineer and a London newspaperman, denied gold had been found, but said the party had located the submerged island sought. On this island, according to a pirate's map now in safe-keeping in a Tahiti bank, is a gold trove buried many years ago.

OTHER WAGE SCALES TO BE CONSIDERED BY INDUSTRY BOARD

Shingle Manufacturing and-Fruit Business Next Industries To Be Probed Victoria, April 13.—Minimum wages for further British Columbia industries will be considered next week by the Board of Industrial Relations, Adam Bell, Deputy Minister of Labor and chairman of the board, announced today. Application of the Hours of Work Act, aimed at distribution of available employment will be the first consideration, he said. Minimum wages will be considered for shingle, wooden box and sash and door manufacturing, not covered by orders on lumbering industry, for which 35¢ per hour, minimum wage was established last week. The fruit and vegetable industry will also be considered. Wholesale fruit houses and retail mercantile establishments have asked for a revision of hours of work. Mr. Bell stated, and barbers and taxidrivars have sought changes in working conditions. "It is obviously unreasonable to expect that conditions which have developed over a period of years can be rectified overnight," Mr. Bell said, "but by a gradual application of remedial measures that have been well considered and, wherever possible, mutually approved, it is hoped to encourage the spirit of co-operation and confidence, that will enable us to take full advantage of the welcome signs of improvement already in evidence." The Board will not be stampeded into promulgation of "ill-considered regulations," Mr. Bell said.

INSULT JOKES

Laughs Over His Escort of Seven Turks Panderna, Turkey, April 13.—Samuel Insull turned jester today on the little train rattling along with him toward Smyrna and a ship waiting to return the former multimillionaire to the United States for trial. To the surprise of fellow-passengers, he had cast off his appearance of despair during the night voyage, from Istanbul. He even joked about the seven-man Turkish escort. "It is remarkable," he said in jest, "that I should have an escort of seven. I'm perfectly harmless." The fact he was beginning a journey against which he fought for a year and a half before finally being jailed by Turkish authorities at Washington's request, did not disturb Insull's leap. Later tonight he will board the S.S. Evlonia under escort of Burton Y. Perry, of the Istanbul American embassy.

Friday, April Thirteenth Was Columbus' Lucky Day

Today is the day of the year when it is most important to watch your step. Don't walk under any ladders, says the superstitions. Don't challenge any black cats to the fight of woe. Steer clear of cracked mirrors, and pick up every pin you see. Friday has been an unlucky day since the Norse god Loki made the original thirteenth at supper, and Balder was killed as a consequence. Yet Friday is not universally considered a bad day to start new enterprises in Scotland is a popular day for a wedding; in England the contrary holds; in Scandinavia it is held to be the luckiest day. Important events happening on Friday the Thirteenth may be classed as lucky or unlucky. The most notable was the discovery of America by Columbus, which occurred Friday, June 13, 1492.

THREE HOLDERS OF FLIGHT RECORDS SEEK BIG PRIZE

Molisons, Smith and Scott To Compete in London To Melbourne Race NEW PLANES Wiley Post and Doolittle of United States Also Enter Classic

Melbourne, Aus., April 13.—Spurred by the huge prize that will await at the end of a flight half-way around the world, Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith, Australia's flying knight, today joined three others who have ordered planes built especially for the classic London to Melbourne air race. Sir Charles, who will represent this country against some of the greatest speed fliers in the world, revealed he had ordered Britain's De Havilland D.H. 60 to hold the record for the "Comet" machines, guaranteed to fly at least 200 miles an hour. A $50,000 pot of gold will go to the man or woman who drops down with the shortest time for the 13,000 odd miles between London and Melbourne this nation's Centennial city in 1934. The race already has attracted numerous entries. The man-and-wife team of Jim and Amy Molison, both commuters of the Atlantic, will fly a machine of the same type as Sir Charles, and so will C. W. A. Scott, the Australian Sir Charles. Jim Molison and Scott have all held the English-to-Australia record at various times.

Against these four are expected to fly some of the best of British aviators and many notables from the United States, including Wiley Post, one of the world's record holders, Col. Roscoe Turner, Jimmy Wedell and Major James Doolittle. The president of the Royal Bank of Canada, is one of the poorest paid officials in Canada, proportionate to his responsibilities, M. W. Wilson, general manager of the bank, told the House committee on banking and commerce. During the past twenty-five years, Sir Herber's income as president of the bank averaged about $14,000 a year, the witness said. At the present time, the president received a salary of $25,000 a year less 10 per cent, and between three and four thousand dollars in directors' fees annually. Unlike the other members of the staff, the president did not have his income tax paid by the bank. "I cannot see how you could get another man of his ability at such a low salary," Mr. Wilson said. "The country does," Chairman B. H. Hanson interjected.

BRITISH BABS BORN WITH TAILS; DOCTORS REMOVE APPENDAGES

London, April 13.—The current issue of the British Medical journal cites two cases of babies born during the month of January with tails. The first baby, not related to the second, was discovered to have, at birth, a tail not unlike that of a pig. It was about three inches long. The X-ray revealed it to be of a non-bony structure. The appendage was successfully removed by operation, when the baby was five weeks old. The second baby had a short, fleshy tail, highly sensitive, which was also successfully removed.

PUBLIC ENEMY NO. 1 STILL AT LARGE

Shreveport, La., April 13.—John Dillinger, No. 1 desperado of United States, today was somewhere in Louisiana, Texas, Mississippi, Alabama or the Indian Territory. Officers vaguely traced an eccentric source across the four southern states, and stationed trigger-fingered guards along the route in the hope of halting the bizarre gunman. At Memphis, in Indiana, the Warsaw police station reported two men, said they resembling Dillinger, landed it early today, slugged a night policeman, and escaped with revolvers and bullet-proof vests.

Brinsley Plunkett, at Luttrellstown castle, in Clonsilla, today they arrived in Dublin together last night.

Edmonton Medicos Dub Health Bill 'Futile, Premature'

Edmonton, April 13.—Condemned by medical men in Edmonton and Calgary as being "futile" and "premature," the Bill requiring both parties to a marriage to first produce health certificates or affidavits, was withdrawn in the Legislature Thursday night. Under the terms of the measure, entitled a Bill to amend the Solemnization of Marriage Act, the parties to a marriage were to be required to show affidavits or medical certificates stating that they never had been infected with venereal diseases. Ottawa, April 13.—Hon. E. N. Rhodes, Minister of Finance, told the House of Commons today that his present intention was to present the budget next Wednesday. Finance Minister Will Present It Next Wednesday, He Declares Ottawa, April 13.—Parliament today continues the battle of "Peace, order and good government." For nearly two weeks now the House of Commons has been deadlocked on the government's unemployment relief bill largely over the clause which empowers the Governor in Council to take such action as he deems necessary for the maintenance of those three words. A Liberal amendment to strike the clause from the bill met with defeat in committee of the whole yesterday. As is customary in committee deliberation, there was no registered vote. A call for the "yees and nays" resulted in its defeat. Annoyed at what he termed a deliberate plan of the Liberals to delay passage of the bill until the leader, Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King, returns from the by-election campaign in S. Oxford, Premier Bennett Thursday night switched the House into committee of supply on the estimates for the Department of Agriculture, but today another attempt will be made to advance the bill. The Liberal objection to the clause is that it surrenders the powers of Parliament to the executive, and the government's insistence on it is based on the desire to be equipped with power to act quickly in the event of an emergency developing on the economic stage now prevailing. Intimation the coming budget would contain a clause to amend the trade agreement between Canada and the United Kingdom was the Prime Minister's answer to a query about reports from London Canada's preference might be limited. Mr. Bennett pointed out the treaty provided for alterations by mutual consent and certain alterations had been made in the budget last year. Representations have been made to Washington in connection with legislation introduced in Congress to exclude Canadians from the right to commute across the international border, was another page of information Mr. Bennett supplied. No definite action could be taken until the bill became law, he said. Similar legislation had frequently been proposed at Washington but had so far always fallen short of enactment.

BLACK SITUATION LOOKING BRIGHTER

Wages in Two Crafts Are Increased in States; Violence Elsewhere

New York, April 13.—At least two developments gave a brighter hue today to the black United States industrial situation. The percent wage increases were announced Thursday night for all workers on boats operated by the Lake Carriers' Association. Employees of the Nash Motor Company's Kanosha, Wis., plant voted to accept new wage concessions from the company and end a six weeks strike. Elsewhere unrest—green—in some places marked by violence. A strike of tool and die-makers in 45 of Detroit's 62 job plants became effective at midnight. Approximately 3,800 men are affected. The other 17 plants, employing 1200 men, negotiating separate agreements. Two thousand workers at the Electric Automobile Plant in Toledo, O., dropped negotiations for a five percent wage increase May 1, and walked out. Two pickets at the Cleveland Worst Mills Company plant were shot, one seriously. They told police an unidentified man fired at them. Authority to call a strike at the St. Louis Chevrolet and Fisher body plants was voted the executive committee of the Federated Automobile Workers of America at a meeting of workers late last night. The trouble is over the alleged refusal of the two companies to rehire about 250 men, most of whom have been active in union affairs. SQUAW CREEK MAY BE NEW KLONDYKE

Northern Area Found Rich in Gold Bearing Grave Claims

Victoria, April 13.—High gold yields from the Squaw Creek area of British Columbia have led mining men to talk about the possibilities of another Klondyke there. The district is in the pocket formed by the Yukon-British Columbia boundary and the Alaska Panhandle. Records compiled show that three men working on one claim recovered 100 tons of gold based on the standard price of $207, from a few weeks' work. Three other men took $1,200 from 150 cubic yards of gravel in three weeks. Another trier recovered a similar sum after 60 days labor. Other claims produced $1,000 and $600.

SPEED WILL COUNT, SAYS McLARNIN

Vancouver Champion Thinker Ross Will Have Worst of Fistic Exchange

Vancouver April 13.—Speed, not science will decide the bout for the world's welterweight boxing champion between the Barney Ross of Chicago, and Jimmy McLarnin of Vancouver, in their title match next month. At last, that is what the Irish-Canadian boxer thinks.

Ross may be a smart boxer, but McLarnin, present titleholder, believes he has more than enough speed to offset the Chicago Jew's skill.

"Granted that I have lost some of my boxing ability," McLarnin said, "I think I still have the speed to get past that and that is what counts. A lot of fighters leave all they have in the past year. Ross hasn't done so much in the past year. If he had been in top form he should have knocked out the kid he kicked, San Francisco, in their match when Klink gained a draw."

McLarnin has been keeping in the "pink" ever since his battle with Young Corbett in San Francisco when he won the world crown.

Here is his daily schedule:

Eighteen holes of golf.
A half-hour of bag punching.
A half-hour of rope skipping.
A half-hour of shadow boxing.

RHEUMATISM GOT HIM

80-year-old Pianist Is Relieved by Kruschen

Although old age has not yet kept this man from occupation as a pianist, rheumatism did threaten to do so recently.

"Two years ago," he writes, "I was suddenly taken with rheumatism, all down by left arm. I tried many things—all to no purpose. I then commenced taking a half-teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts every morning, and soon felt benefit. My arm, which was painful and nearly useless, to my astonishment is now, after a few weeks' treatment, quite better. I am more than pleased, as I am a pianist, and playing made matters worse. I am just entering my 80th year, and am in good health."—G. L. A.

The six mineral salts of Kruschen have a direct effect upon the whole bloodstream, neutralizing uric acid, which is recognized cause of rheumatism. They also restore the eliminating organs to proper work, thereby checking the further formation of uric acid and other body poisons which undermine the health.

Printers Lose One More To Servicemen In Hockey Fixture

Gyros firmly established themselves as the champion roller hockey team of Nanaimo's Thursday League when they defeated Printers, 8-4, in a return tilt.

The Typos started strongly, and were enjoying a 1-0 lead at the end of the first session. Bill Whittingham was the scorer. Then, unlimbering themselves at the rest period, the Chubbers skated out on the floor ready to mop up their rivals. This they proceeded to do, and Baker, Grendell and Filmer notched four goals before the canto was over. Ryan did stellar work in the Gyro goal to prevent any further scoring from the Printers.

Filmer's goal was the only one scored in the third frame and the Gyros enjoyed a 5-1 lead as they entered the last period. The Printers gave a good account of themselves, swarming around the opposing goal, but were only able to score goal for goal with their rivals Gyros, with two, and Sam Hindmarsh were responsible for the Typos goal, while Cy Baker did the last trick for the Servicers. The teams:

Gyros: Goal, Jack Ryan; defence, Phil Piper and C. Baker; forwards, Grendell, McCarthy and Filmer; sub, Jack Dudley.

Printers: Goal, Bill Richardson; defence, George Gunnis and Jack Jemson; forwards, Bob Hindmarsh, Bill Whittingham and Sam Hindmarsh; sub, Verdon Gilbert.

CHAPTER WITH THE STORY.

"From Jerry?" She looked surprised, and the sudden redness on her color rushing back heading to her white face. "What did he want with you?" I haven't seen him for some time."

"He came to talk about you."

"About me?" She shrugged her shoulders. "Was he very melodramatic? Did he beg of you to give me up and not to ruin his life?"

"Something like it." O'Hara's voice sounded thick and unnatural. "Something like it?" He caught his breath on a hard snort before he broke out savagely. "He told me you were his mistress."

Barbara stared down at the gray ash on the end of her cigarette. "His mistress? Jerry's mistress? She wanted to laugh, and she wanted to cry. It was a lie. Thank God, it was not the truth, and yet—it might so very nearly have been.

But it was a lie all the same—thank God!

The gray ash fell, and she looked up into O'Hara's face.

"Well, what did you say?" she asked. "Was he confident of what he had said; most likely he had kicked Jerry downstairs—poor dear Jerry! I told him I should do what I have done. I told him I should come straight to you and tell you."

"Oh!" For a moment she felt paralyzed; then, she meant that Dennis believed it—believed it!

She drew her hand from his and stood up.

"Who have you come to me?" she asked slowly. "Do you want me to swear with my hand on the Bible that I am a spotless saint?"

"No; no."

"Would you believe me if I did swear to it?"

Dennis fell back from her with a smothered groan.

"My God! I don't know. Men do not lie about such things."

He came back to her, his face white, his eyes tragic.

"It sounded like the truth. I'm not saint, but you and that man—my God, Barbara, it is true."

"You mean that you believe that it is true?"

He made no answer, and she said in a voice that was only so very still because it was so utterly tragic: "Very well; then go on believing it."

Like a woman in a dream she heard Dennis trying to explain, to excuse himself, to defend himself.

"I knew the kind of a life you lead. You always knock about with men. I've always heard—it was Pauline who defended you—always; she would never hear a word."

Barbara's smile lit up. "Al—Pauline!" The thought of Pauline was like a giggle laid on a terrible world in her heart, and yet its very gentleness was agony. And Dennis' distressing, yet his sheer honest and unadorned every word on an insult.

And Barbara laughed, a harsh steel laugh that was like a knife-cut in the tragedy of the room. "You seem to have had an entertaining night, altogether. Did you sit up till the small hours of the morning tearing me to pieces?" She caught her breath sharply. "Fine gentlemen, the both of you—and you both pretend to love me."

Dennis said fiercely: "I did love you, I did love you, I did love you. Not in the past! I did love you, not 'I do.'"

She saw his hand go out to her, then fall again at his side.

"He swore it! He said he'd been here with you alone, night after night—like that the truth?"

"Yes."

She heard his sob as he turned away, and there was a tragic silence. Then he came back once more.

"That's nothing—and she knew that he was trying to convince himself rather than to apologize to her for his suspicions. 'It's nothing, I know, nowadays. Girls often go to men's flats—don't they? It isn't what I should like Pauline to do, but she's a girl, and she's young. 'Pauline!'"

"But she's different from you," he went on hoarsely. "She's led such a sheltered life, and you—Then suddenly he was gripping her arms with frenzied hands. "Tell me—tell me the truth if you've never told it to me before. Tell me!"

U.S. LIQUOR TRADE HELPS CLERGYMEN

More Prosperous Times In Old Scotland Causes Increase In Stipends

London, Eng.—Many Church of Scotland ministers will this year have their salaries increased by from $300 to $500 and all because of the boom in the whiskey trade with the United States, says the News Chronicle.

In many districts the amount of the ministers' stipends is still based on the current market price of barley. Thus an increase in the price of barley means an increase in stipends. The whiskey boom in the United States is sent barley up by about $2.40 a ton over last year's figures.

"The practice is 200 or 300 years old," Dr. Campbell, joint clerk of the Glasgow Presbytery, said to the News Chronicle. "It dates from the time when ministers of the Church of Scotland took part of their stipends in kind."

"In the time the barter system was dropped and the grain tribute was translated into a money payment, based on the ruling market prices of grain. The Act of 1925 substituted a fixed stipend but a number of ministers stuck to the old system. In any case becoming vacant since 1925, the fixed stipend is paid."

BRITAIN'S NEW ENGINE

Doncaster, Eng., April 13—A new "lush-lush" locomotive, believed to be the largest in the United Kingdom, is nearing completion at the London and North Eastern Railway's shops here, it was learned today.

The engine will have eight coupled driving wheels, each six feet, eight inches in diameter. It is understood it will be used on the London-Scotland run.
