CHINESE TEA

The Story of Seven-Up...

Seven-Up is the "fresh up" drink. You get a fresh feeling when you drink it.

The best way is to sip it slowly. Then you can taste the flavor and see how 7-Up really quenches your thirst. When you are hot or tired and your mouth is dry, drink a bottle of chilled 7-Up.

It will show you what "fresh up" means.

Everything in 7-Up is pure and wholesome and good for you. It is crystal-clear and contains the finest ingredients.

Little children can drink it, and they love it.

You can drink 7-Up any time, as often as you want and as much as you want.

The clean flavor appeals to your taste:

You Like It... It Likes You.

HOW TO EAT AND ORDER CHINESE FOODS

Most Chinese Foods are cooked to order and served immediately. Therefore sufficient time must be allowed to insure perfection.

The best way for a group to order is for those at the table to ask for one serving of each one's favorite dish and a couple of extra orders for the whole group.

If a diner is unfamiliar with Chinese cuisine, ask advice of the waiter by suggesting your preferences — fish or shellfish, Chicken or duck, beef or pork, vegetable or egg, rice or noodle. The waiter will be happy to assist in your selections.

Etiquette in partaking of Chinese dinners is to transfer to your plate a small portion (one or two spoonfuls) of each of the communal dishes, leaving sufficient for others dining with you. You will undoubtedly find it possible to take more helpings after the first round. Do not over-indulge on the first few dishes; make allowance for other dishes to follow.

Having made your selections, with the help of the waiter if desired, our Master Cantonese Chef will delight you with some fine examples of the superb culinary art of Old Cathay.
