HONOR FOR NANAIMO

In Vancouver yesterday, approximately 1500 teachers from all parts of the province, delegates to the fourth annual organization of the B.C. Teachers' Federation, gathered to further their interests, and those of B. C. schools.

The general public cannot take too great an interest in the matter of education. It is closely linked with the cultural welfare of our children, and of the nation.

It is for this reason that we have pleasure in felicitating Mr. A. Seymour Towell, Supervisor of Schools for Nanaimo, upon obtaining the G. A. Ferguson Memorial award.

Mr. Ferguson, during his lifetime, was principal of King Edward High School, Vancouver, and was widely esteemed as a fine educator, and a great friend of those students with whom he came in contact.

The award is made to the member of the teaching profession in B. C. who gives the best contribution to education, particularly in connection with:

- (a) Research work in education.
 - (b) Special contributions to the educational progress in the province.
 - (c) Summary school reports.
- Mr. Towell's endeavors have received favorable comment from such eminent authorities as Dr. Weir of the University of B. C., provincial Minister of Education, Dr. Black of the University of Saskatchewan, King Edward High School, and Mr. Harkness, principal of the Oak Bay High School.
- Nanaimo should be gratified in having an educationalist of Mr. Towell's caliber in its midst. It is to be sincerely hoped that he will remain for some considerable period.
- The people of this city, as well as his friends and his associates, no doubt feel that the honor he has brought himself, reflects not only great credit upon him, but also upon the city where he is a leading school executive.

"I WAS A SPY," FINE PICTURE

British Production Features: Du Maurier, Veidt and Herbert Marshall

"I Was a Spy," the splendid Gaumont-British picture to be shown at the Capitol Theatre for two days starting tomorrow, is said to be the most expensive motion picture produced to date in a British study. The story is founded on the book of the same name and gives the actual experience of Martha McKenna, who feigned an injury in the employ of the British Intelligence office. Hundreds of people are in the cast, which is headed by five well known stars, Madeline Carroll, Herbert Marshall, Conrad Veidt, Edmund Gwenn and Gerald du Maurier. Not only is it a stupendous production, but it is notable for some of the best acting seen on the screen for many months.

Miss Martha McKenna, whose experience as a nurse and a Secret Service agent in Belgium during the Great War are the basis of the film "I Was a Spy," said the picture during its London run.

"I am sorry," she said, "but the film is so beautiful. It has brought to me all the sad days. There are many more things to tell, but the film has told all that could be told. It could not have been more wonderfully done."

"I think it is the most lovely film I have ever seen, and all the players are as true to life as it is possible to imagine."

"The rebuilding of the Belgian town of Roulers is perfect. When you see the Roulers of the film you see the real thing. It is right in every detail. I do not know whom I liked best among the players. They are all splendidly cast."

"I think the Borgomaster by Mr. Edmund Gwenn is a living portrait, and the Commandant by Mr. Conrad Veidt is so good that it made me forget my own."

SYNOPSIS
Pauline, sentimental, trustful, sincere and loving love, becomes engaged and married Dennis O'Hara in the belief that his blissful happiness will continue unchanged through the years. On her wedding morning she awakes to find Dennis' premonition that may be love does change, though buried in her mind by a letter from her closest friend, Barbara, she might believe. Pauline adored Barbara who had been married, was the mother of a child who died, but she divorced and living a life which by both six months in a sanatorium. Between Dennis and Barbara is a seeming wall of personal dislike by both six months in a sanatorium. Barbara comes for a short stay. During this visit Barbara confesses to Pauline that she really loves her, but she refuses to tell her name. Barbara decides suddenly to go home and Pauline insists Dennis drives her to the station. Irritated, Dennis drives recklessly and they are in a crash. Barbara escapes injury but Dennis' leg is broken. As he returns to consciousness he hears that the man is not Barbara loves. It's himself. Dennis spends several weeks in the hospital. Pauline returns to stay with Pauline, but on one pretext or another fails to visit Dennis with Pauline at the hospital. Pauline pleads lightly for Dennis' return home. Much against his will Dennis finds a new attraction in Barbara, who has the same cool and detached role as formerly. A fortnight after Barbara's return to New York, she receives a letter from Pauline that she and Dennis are coming to New York for a little vacation. Dennis' arrival a round of gay entertainment gets under way—throwing Dennis and Pauline much into each other's company. Dennis is in love with Barbara. She breaks thru all barriers and tells her of his love. Pauline is called home by the illness of her mother. Dennis stays on. Barbara is happy. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

"Where are you going?"
"To lunch with Jerry."
"That's not the truth," Dennis said calmly. "I ran into Barnett at the station ten minutes ago and he told me he was going down to Windsor to the races."
Barbara bit her lip and made no answer. Dennis hailed a taxi and followed her into it.
"Barbomom's, please," he told the driver. "You'll lunch with me," he said as they drove away.
"You're very positive," she sneered. "I am as positive as I am that you never intended lunching with Barnett." He laid his hand on hers, but she drew away sharply. "Why did you tell me such a fib?" he asked. She shrunk back away from him into the corner.
"I feel such a cad," she said almost violently.
"How do you imagine I feel?"
"I don't think men have any conscience when they want a thing badly enough."
"As badly as I want you, you mean?"
She did not speak, and he went on: "You've made mistakes, Barbara."

THE COOKERY SCHOOL by Anna Lee Scott

A complete Cookery Arts Course in 12 Lessons dealing with all the Fundamentals of this Important Subject. Thoroughly practical to the beginner as well as to the experienced Cook who is interested in the newer, better, more economical methods.

Fully Protected by Copyright. Lesson No. 12.—DESSERTS.

DESSERTS

This being our last lesson, I am going to devote it, very appropriately, to the subject of Desserts. Every cook needs to be able to bring her dinner to a happy ending.

Now we look back to a number of the lessons that you have had; you will find many of these "happy endings" in them. I am going to pick out some of the possibilities for you. Lesson 2, Pancakes—make the batter for them thin by adding extra sweet milk; serve with syrup, butter and sugar, perhaps lemon, with honey, jelly, jam.

Muffins—Serve fresh and hot, with a sweet if desired. Serve hot, with a hot pudding sauce from the preceding lesson.

In Lesson 3, you learned about shortcakes and other biscuit dough good things. Use the same dough for fruit puddings. 1 Place a little canned fruit and its juice or fresh fruit and sugar and a little water, in greased moulds, put a small amount of the dough on top, and cook in steamer. The juice will act as a sauce when you turn out the puddings. 2 Bake as the same dish, and add a little more rich cream or whipped cream, or fruit syrup as a sauce.

For Roly-poly—make plain biscuit dough or shortcake dough, roll, spread with jam, marmalade or syrup and bread crumbs; roll up like jelly roll, pinch ends and moisten edge of dough with cold water to make seal. Place in a greased bowl or loaf tin. There are three ways to cook your roll:

- (a) In the steamer, over boiling water, made covered.
- (b) Baked in a well-greased pan in hot oven, 45 F.
- (c) Baked in a hot oven, baste occasionally with a syrup of sugar and water, which is poured over at the commencement of the cooking and served finally as a sauce. (See directions for baked dumplings, Lesson 3.)

Dutch Apple Cake—This cake may be made with other fruits too, such as sliced peaches, apples and pineapple. Make shortcake dough by one of the methods discussed in Lesson 3. Put to about 1 inch thickness in greased cake pan. Into the surface, press sections of pared and cored apple, dust with sugar (1 table spoon for each apple) and a little cinnamon. Bake in hot oven, 45 F. 25 to 35 minutes, and serve hot with a spice sauce or lemon sauce (given in Lesson 11).

There are almost all desserts—pastry and sweet fillings for pies and tarts. Then you have more fillings in Lesson 4. Your cake lessons, too, give you many desserts.

Any plain cake can be served hot from the oven, with a hot sauce, as a filling; or you can cover it with fruit and cream and serve hot. A light cake can be put together like shortcake, with fresh or cooked fruit as a filling, and served with cream. Ginger bread served with hot buttered toast, and dressed with cream, are delicious desserts in themselves!

Spread any light cake, cold or hot, with a cooked fruit filling (made as desired) and serve with cream. Dressing of cakes that are delicious desserts in themselves!

OTTAGE PUDDING—Use any simple hot or cold sauce cake batter and serve hot, with pudding sauce together. Or put the following ingredients together in the Muffin method: (Lesson 2): 2½ cups pastry baking powder, 2½ cups sugar, 1 cup egg and 1-4 cup butter, melted. May be baked plain or over a layer of drained canned fruit, stewed fruit or sugared fresh fruit. Bake in moderate oven, 35 minutes (or longer over fruit).

SUET PUDDING—An old-fashioned suet pudding, usually made with fruit in it or with jam or marmalade to give sweetness and flavor, should be made in a greased mould. It is a very simple, but very nice, dessert. Suet is finely minced suet, but the lardening is usually in the form of other lard or other fat. Flour or bread crumbs—any may be used in these cases when it is a large pudding, especially when it is a large pudding of bread-crumbs in the pudding).

to make it hold together. The liquid in these puddings may be sweet or sour milk, fruit juice or molasses, or even egg, alone, as in a rich plum pudding. There will probably be baking powder in a sweet milk mixture, and soda (with perhaps some baking powder too) where an acid liquid such as sour milk, buttermilk, fruit juice or molasses is used.

There are many occasions when pudding—the same as butter cake, or this same favorite way:

Sift and measure flour. Chop suet finely, and mix with flour and rub into dry ingredients to mix well. Add any dried fruit like raisins or dates, and then wet materials, such as milk, egg, molasses, jam.

To Steam Suet Pudding—Grease moulds well. Fill two-thirds full with pudding-mixture-Cover. Steam in individual moulds 1 to 1½ hours; large moulds, 3 to 5 hours, depending on their size. (Note individual or small moulds mean economy in fuel, when cooking over a gas or electricity.)

Vegetable pudding offers a great improvement over the old fashioned pudding cloth. A well-steamed pudding may be kept for some time, hung in a cool dry place, and will be found enough to heat it through when required. Tie down pudding, when steaming, with buttered or waxed paper. Do not raise cover until end of time given for steaming or the change of temperature may cause puddings to fall, just as a cake would do in a cooler.

Dark Suet Pudding—Spiced, Fruited—½ cup finely chopped suet, 1¼ cups pastry flour, 2-1/2 teaspoons baking powder, 1½ teaspoon baking soda, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon cinnamon, 2 to 4 tablespoons brown sugar, 1-3 cup seeded raisins, cut up in small pieces, 1 cup well-cleaned currants (mixed with finely cut peel, if liked), 1-2 cup milk, 3 to 4 tablespoons molasses. Mix according to directions.

(Milk may be substituted for the molasses, in which case an extra spoon of baking powder would replace the molasses; or you may replace 2 tablespoons milk.)

Carrot Pudding—7-8 cup flour, 1-2 teaspoon soda, pinch of salt, 3-4 teaspoon baking powder, 1 cup brown sugar, 1-2 cup finely chopped suet, 1-2 cup chopped seeded raisins, 1-2 cup well-cleaned currants, 2 tablespoons finely cut candied peel, 1 cup grated rind of 1-2 lemon, 1-2 cup each of grated raw potato, carrot and apple.

Mix and sift dry ingredients, add suet and fruit, mix thoroughly and add vegetables. If liked, 1-4 cup of blanched and chopped almonds may be included. Mix pudding well, pour into buttered mould; steam 3 hours.

This economical pudding is even nice enough to take the place of rich fruit puddings at Christmas time.

Rich Old-Fashioned English Plum Pudding—3 cups chopped almonds, bleached 1½ pounds seedless raisins, 1 pound currants, ½ pound citron and peels, 3-4 pound beef suet, fine ground, 3-4 cups brown sugar, 9 eggs, 2 cups flour, ½ teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon soda, 1-4 cup each of raisins, currants, mixed spice, or mix your own, half cinnamon, other half ginger, juice.

(Recipe as in original brandy.) Mix according to rule and steam 3 to 4 hours. To serve, steam for an hour.

MILK PUDDINGS are of many types—most be thickened by some agent such as flour, cornstarch, egg, rice, tapioca, or bread-crumbs or jam. In all but the last case, the milk is scalded before combining in the pudding. (Custards, in which the milk is thickened with egg, are dealt with in Lesson 7.)

Simple Milk-Pudding 2 tablespoons sugar 1-4 cup hot milk 1 cup scalded milk 1-8 teaspoon salt ½ teaspoon flour

Combine the sugar, flour and salt thoroughly. Stir in the scalded milk gradually, cook over hot water, stirring constantly until thick.

Scald milk occasionally until there is no more flavor, or raw flour. Remove from heat, pour into moistened moulds. Chill until firm. Serve with cream.

Variations—Same as for Cornstarch Puddings.

Cornstarch Pudding 1-4 cup hot milk 2 tablespoons sugar 1-2 tablespoons cornstarch 1-8 teaspoon salt 1-2 tablespoons cold milk 1-3 teaspoon flavoring. Combine the sugar, cornstarch and salt. Stir to a smooth paste with the cold milk. Scald the milk in the top of the double boiler; stir the cold mixture gradually into it (do not pour too rapidly or the mixture will lump). Stir and cook until thick. Cover and cook stirring occasionally, for 45 minutes or until there is no more flavor or raw starch. Remove from the heat, pour into moistened moulds, set over serving dish, shake out gently.

Topplings—Whipped cream, jelly, sugar (poached or oven-poached) jelly, jam or syrup.

Variations—If moulding individual, reduce starch by 1-4 tablespoon in 1 cup milk. If pouring into serving dishes, reduce starch by ½ tablespoon in 1 cup milk.

Chocolate—Scald ½ ounce chocolate with the milk. Beat until smooth, 1-2 cup milk, 1-4 cup sugar, 1-4 cup ½ tablespoon cornstarch. Complete according to general method (1-4 cup chopped dates or nuts may be added to the mixture).

Suffles—Substitute 1 egg white or ½ tablespoon of the cornstarch. Add, stiffly-beaten, to the cornstarch mixture, and remove from heat. Fold in thoroughly 1-4 cup fruit may be added to a white soufflé in place of the flouring, for example, dried fruits and thoroughly drained canned fruiting.

RICE PUDDINGS Rice may be used either raw or cooked in milk puddings. In the former case, the rice being starchier will thicken the mixture. If cooked rice is used, the mixture must be thickened by egg or some other agent.

1. Puddings with Raw Rice General Proportions and Methods 1-3 cup rice 1-2 cup sugar 1-2 cup salt 1-2 cup milk 1-2 teaspoon vanilla

Wash rice thoroughly, drain. To cook (a) Scald the milk with the salt and sugar. Stir the rice in gradually. Cover and cook stirring occasionally until the rice is tender and the mixture thickened. Remove from the heat, and add the vanilla. Pour into serving dish. Chill.

(b) Boil rice, salt, sugar and vanilla to the milk. Pour into a greased baking dish, oven-poach in slow oven, 300 F., from 2 to 3 hours. Stir occasionally for the first while to keep the rice from dropping to the bottom. ("Oven-poach" means to set dish in pan of hot water.)

II. PUDDING WITH COOKED RICE General Proportions and Methods 1 cup uncooked custard mixture (1-2 cup milk, 1-2 cup egg, 1-2 cup sugar, 1-2 cup salt) See general directions for custard mixture (Lesson 7). Add the rice before cooking custard. Oven poach in greased baking dish, as in (a) during the first part of the cooking, to prevent the rice from setting.

Variations—To 2 cups of pudding mixture, add ½ cup dried fruits, raisins, currants, dates or figs or a mixture of all these.

Sago and Pearl Tapioca Cook to use as rice, allowing 1-3 cup to 2 cups milk. Tapioca may be used in the same way for several hours in cold water to cover it, before using.

Sago must be washed and soaked 1 hour before using in puddings.

Simplified Junket—Dissolve junket powder—altered sweetened, flavored and tipped—in lukewarm milk. Stir and pour quickly into serving glasses. Let set at room temperature, then chill, serve plain with cream.

Bread Puddings—fully treated in Lesson 7.

GELATINE DISHES Moulded jellies are very popular desserts, easy to make, convenient because they can be made well ahead of time, and can be widely varied from the plainest to the flavored jelly. Variations—See also chapter on dessert.

gelatine or ½ ounce sheet gelatine to set 1 cup liquid, if there is a little acid in the mixture. (For example, lemon, orange or pineapple juice.) Allow only 1-3 tablespoon gelatine to 1 cup liquid, if no acid.

Allow up to ¼ tablespoon gelatine to 1 cup liquid, (a) in hot weather, or (b) for quick setting or (c) when jelly must support considerable weight.

Method for Plain Jelly 1. Soak gelatine in at least twice as much cold liquid.

2. Make a syrup of sugar and hot liquid and boil 3 minutes. (Cover closely and cook slowly to prevent evaporation.)

3. Add soaked gelatine to hot liquid and still until dissolved (or if jelly is better unheated, stand container of soaked gelatine in saucepan containing hot water until thoroughly dissolved, then add to large mass of liquid.)

4. Add flavoring, stain and mould. We will explain how you can make several fancy gelatine desserts with this plain jelly as a foundation, later in this lesson.

Precautions in Jelly Making To make jellies that are tender though firm, and of good flavor, you must always remember these points: Measure carefully; never heat gelatine (this develops disagreeable flavor); but be sure gelatine is thoroughly dissolved by stirring it long enough into very hot liquid; strain jellies before moulding; keep covered whenever possible.

Also jelly to cool partially set, becomes combining with beaten egg whites else it will separate into two layers, one plain and one frothy.

We moulds with cold water or oil then lightly. Small moulds set more readily and give better texture to jelly.

To decorate—pour a little jelly mixture into very cold mould and tilt it to coat sides; arrange decorative pieces of eggs, fruit, etc., on bottom and around sides and pour in just enough jelly mixture to hold this layer. When set, fill up mould with gelatine mixture, which has been kept in slightly warm place to prevent jelling. When poured-in jelly is partially set, more fruit may be added. Then chill thoroughly.

To Unmold a Jelly Wrap a cloth, wrung out of warm water, around the mould for just a moment or two, invert over serving dish, and shake jelly out gently. It can be decorated with whipped cream, fruit, etc.

Variations—A plain jelly made by these rules will be firm but tender, clear, quivering and delicious. It will be a good dessert in itself or with fruit, chocolate or it will give foundation for many fancy gelatine dishes—the whipped jellies, sponges, Bavarian Creams and Charlottes (to be given in later lessons).

Added: whipped cream adds its richness to these last mixtures, whilst egg white makes them and the sponge light and airy.

To add fruits—pour prepared strained jelly into bowl; chill, stirring occasionally, until about ½ set; then stir through; fold in the thoroughly drained fruit and mould individually or in a large shape.

Using Jelly Powders Prepared jelly powders have become very fine products. They offer short-cuts to many types of moulded desserts. Observe the same rules in moulding as with whole eggs or cream, in decorating and in adding fruits, etc., to honey-thick mixtures.

Delicious Examples I am now going to tell you how to apply these rules to some of our next gelatine dessert mixtures.

Sweetened Lemon Jelly—This is an example of plain jelly made exactly by rule.

2 tablespoons gelatine, 1 cup cold water, 2 cups boiling water, 1 cup sugar, few thin shavings lemon rind, ½ cup lemon juice.

Orange Jelly—Another plain jelly—follow the same general instructions for mixing and moulding.

2 tablespoons gelatine, ½ cup cold water, 1½ cups boiling water, 1 cup sugar, ½ cup orange juice, 2 tablespoons lemon juice.

Coffee Jelly—2 tablespoons gelatine, ½ cup cold water, 3 cups hot strong coffee, ½ cup sugar, 3 tablespoons lemon juice.

Follow general method, dissolving sugar in the hot coffee very thoroughly.

Gelatin Sponges This is our first variation of the plain mixture. Make any of the plain jellies we have given you—lemon, orange, coffee or other sweet jelly—and turn it into a sponge in this simple way: place jelly in a bowl, stirring it occasionally, and

Winners Named in Galahad Drawing

Miss L. Rogers drew the winning numbers in the Galahad Basketball Club drawing Saturday evening, as follows: 1st, Mrs. S. Rogers, No. 153; 2nd, Mrs. Wilson, MacIntyre St., No. 62; 3rd, Mrs. Tom Aldrich, 346 St. Charles St., No. 46; 4th, Miss P. Williams, 66 Chapel St., No. 350; 5th, B. Pettipiece, No. 1163.

Holders of prize-winning tickets are requested to phone Russ Inkster at 530Y.

When it begins to stiffen, beat it until it is frothy. Fold in the stiffly-beaten whites of eggs—allowing 1 egg white to about 1 cup jelly. Treat in same way as plain jelly.

Fruit may be added to sponges, if desired; just as to plain jellies.

Precautions—If the jelly mixture is not partially set before folding in the egg whites, the jelly will separate into a clear layer and a frothy layer. If too cold, particles of jelly will show in the moulded mixture.

Watch this thickening carefully. It is usually about 10 minutes in case of Spanish Cream, the Bavarians and Charlottes.

Pineapple Sponges—1 tablespoon of gelatine, 1 cup cold water, 2-3 cup boiling water, 2-3 cup sugar; thin shavings of 1-4 lemon rind, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 2 tablespoons pineapple juice (sieved), 2 egg whites, ½ cup drained grated pineapple.

Note—Fresh pineapple will keep the mixture from jelling; cook it first—or use canned pineapple.

Make jelly of first 7 ingredients, following general rules. Chill, stirring occasionally, and when partially set, add pineapple juice and egg whites, stiff, add to mixture, and beat until beginning to stiffen. Fold in grated pineapple, turn into wet moulds.

Spiced Cream—2 cups boiling water, 2 cups gelatine, ½ cup milk (cold), 2½ cup milk (scalded), ½ teaspoon salt, ½ cup sugar, 2 eggs, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Beat egg whites stiff with the sugar and salt. Pour gradually over the well-beaten egg yolks; return to double boiler and stir and cook over hot water until thickening is a soft custard (see Lesson 7). Pour over the gelatine, which has been softened in the cold milk; stir until thoroughly dissolved. Flavor. Pour into bowl, chill, stirring occasionally until thick as honey. Fold in stiffly beaten whites of eggs, in small quantities, in moulds; chill. (If using large mould increase gelatine to 1½ table-spoons.)

Charlottes and Bavarians We will first give the recipe for the Bavarian Cream, but not all of us know that it can easily be made in most delicious forms at home; it is simply another variation of our plain mixture.

A Bavarian Cream is practically the same kind of mixture—although some authorities claim the use of gelatine in the mixture instead of Charlotte Russe.

I have explained how to use our jellies, but you will find that we use the Sponges, in turn, as a foundation for Bavarian Creams and Charlottes.

Make any Sponge, according to rule, and when partly set, fold into the quantities I have given you, 1 cup heavy cream, whipped, if you like, if you can use more cream and less egg white than we have in the Sponge.

Charlotte Type of Gelatine Cream (Without Egg White) 1 tablespoon gelatine ½ cup cold water 1-3 cup hot milk 1-2 cup sifted granulated sugar ½ teaspoon salt 2 cups cream, whipped 1½ teaspoons vanilla 1 teaspoon almond extract

Dissolve the sugar and salt in the hot milk; pour over the gelatine, which has been softened in cold water; stir until dissolved; if necessary, dissolve over hot water. Chill, stirring occasionally, until of the consistency of honey. Whip uncooked cream to stiff peaks; fold into the cream. The cream has been beaten until stiff with the vanilla. Pour into serving dish, and trim with strips of stale sponge cake. Chill until set.

Variations Charlotte Charlottes—Scald 1½ ounce chocolate with the milk. Beat until smooth. Increase sugar to 2-3 cups, and use only ¾ teaspoon vanilla.

Glossed Vanilla Charlotte—Fold in ½ cup thoroughly drained diced candied pineapple, ½ cup halved stoned maraschino cherries and ¼ cup stoned raisins, and mix with the whipped cream. Complete as plain Vanilla Charlotte.

Sweetened Lemon Jelly—This is an example of plain jelly made exactly by rule.

2 tablespoons gelatine, 1 cup cold water, 2 cups boiling water, 1 cup sugar, few thin shavings lemon rind, ½ cup lemon juice.

Orange Jelly—Another plain jelly—follow the same general instructions for mixing and moulding.

2 tablespoons gelatine, ½ cup cold water, 1½ cups boiling water, 1 cup sugar, ½ cup orange juice, 2 tablespoons lemon juice.

Coffee Jelly—2 tablespoons gelatine, ½ cup cold water, 3 cups hot strong coffee, ½ cup sugar, 3 tablespoons lemon juice.

Follow general method, dissolving sugar in the hot coffee very thoroughly.

Gelatin Sponges This is our first variation of the plain mixture. Make any of the plain jellies we have given you—lemon, orange, coffee or other sweet jelly—and turn it into a sponge in this simple way: place jelly in a bowl, stirring it occasionally, and

Flats Advance To Second Round of Hunt Cup Series

Tar Flats advanced to the second round of the Hunt Cup series Sunday afternoon when they handed Motor Levels a 4-9 whitewash before a good crowd of fans in an Injured Players' Fund and Hunt Cup fixture.

The losers did not deserve to be beaten by such a score for they had a good edge on play. Their rivals displayed nice form on the breakaway, and three of their goals resulted in this manner. The team was through a penalty kick taken by Gil Southern.

Motor Levels were failing 2-0 at the interval. Harry Robb scored two beautiful goals for the winners, and the others were secured by South ern and Bud Baird.

S. Craig handled the whistle.

WEATHER VAGARIES

East Swelters; Wyoming Battles With Deep Snowdrifts

New York, April 3.—Mid-summer heat in the East, a howling blizzard over part of the United States west and threatening floods in New England feature the variegated current of the weather man.

In New York he offered odds today would break the all-time high for April 3—73.4 degrees, set in 1892. That should be cheering to the citizens of Montana and Wyoming as they dig themselves out of 10 feet snowdrifts piled up by a storm last night.

The thermometer reached 75 in New York Monday, while Washington reported 84 and Boston 72. Massachusetts and Connecticut were keeping anxious eyes on the Connecticut River at flood stage at several points.

One death was reported in Wyoming. J. Kent Kinniburgh, secretary of the Casper Chamber of Commerce, was killed when his car overturned on a slippery pavement.

CHURCHES OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

"REALITY" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which was read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 1.

Among the citations which composed the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "The works of the Lord are great, sought out of all them that have pleasure therein. His work is honourable and glorious; and his righteousness endureth forever" (Psalms 111: 2, 3).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "To grasp the reality and order of being in its Science, you must begin by reckoning God as the divine Principle of all that really is. All substance, intelligence, wisdom, being, immortality, cause and effect belong to God" (p. 275).

WEATHER VAGARIES

East Swelters; Wyoming Battles With Deep Snowdrifts

New York, April 3.—Mid-summer heat in the East, a howling blizzard over part of the United States west and threatening floods in New England feature the variegated current of the weather man.

In New York he offered odds today would break the all-time high for April 3—73.4 degrees, set in 1892. That should be cheering to the citizens of Montana and Wyoming as they dig themselves out of 10 feet snowdrifts piled up by a storm last night.

The thermometer reached 75 in New York Monday, while Washington reported 84 and Boston 72. Massachusetts and Connecticut were keeping anxious eyes on the Connecticut River at flood stage at several points.

One death was reported in Wyoming. J. Kent Kinniburgh, secretary of the Casper Chamber of Commerce, was killed when his car overturned on a slippery pavement.

Mr. Bob Blackburn Given Presentation

Several players and members of the executive of the Nanaimo Rugby Club surprised on Bob Blackburn Saturday evening when they paid him a visit in honor of his birthday.

A very pleasant evening was spent, each member contributing to a fine vocal and instrumental program, interspersed with community singing and reminiscences of his many hard fought games in the past season.

During the course of the evening, Mr. E. Blackburn, president of the Club, was called upon to make a presentation of a tobacco pouch and lighter to Mr. Blackburn on behalf of the members of the Rugby Club. He replied very suitably, under the circumstances, thanking the rugged men for their kindness and thoughtfulness. Refreshments were later served by Mrs. Blackburn.
